

Had You Thought of Christmas?

Had you thought that Thanksgiving is unusually late this year and that your time for Christmas shopping is one week shorter unless you begin at once?

Our store is donning its Christmas dress and you can begin on your list now.

Early Christmas shoppers not only get the better assortment, but they get the freshest and daintiest merchandise.

Dainty Christmas Handkerchiefs

We have always had the very best and daintiest of Handkerchiefs, and this year we are not going to fall short. Ours were purchased nearly a year ago, and we can give you the same qualities and quote you practically the same prices as last year.

Holiday Stationery

This is a new line with us, and by the way people buy we are convinced that ours is as good as there is at the price. You should see our beautiful display of Christmas Cards and Paper put up in the very daintiest of boxes, with one, two and three quires. The prices range from 25c to $2.00 each.

Japanese Novelties

This year we have a very new and attractive line of Imported Japanese Novelties. These make excellent Christmas remembrances and are very acceptable. Prices range from 10c up to $3.00. These go on display to-morrow.

Have You Bought Your Linens?

We are selling Linens to-day at practically old prices. This means something to you, as you know European flax fields are devastated. Even if the war were to stop now, those fields couldn't grow flax for years. No flax means no linens, so we urge you, in your interest as well as our own, to buy now.

3 pieces 70-inch Bleached Damask, special at 1.39

With the receipt of news that the Colby academy team in New London, N. H., champions of the Granite state, has disbanded, Goddard seminary gridiron warriors have put away their "oleskins" for the season and the athletes on the hill-top are turning their attention to basketball. Until yesterday hopes were entertained of staging a game, either in Barre or New London, for the championship of Vermont and New Hampshire, but a communication from the Colby management set at rest aspirations for a decisive game between the two schools. The Colby management has let it be known that it desires a game with Goddard in 1917 and a date on the seminary schedule will probably be reserved for the New London school.
